1. Outsmarting the Cash Register by Kraft Consumer Affairs Department. 15 pp. Simply written booklet with large type aimed at sharpening consumers' shopping skills.
2. Be Ad-Wise by Canario. 60 pp. Designed to help people use ads wisely. Includes information on finding the best price, using coupons free offers in ads, refunds and mail orders, specific sections on shopping for clothes, food, and cars.
3. Pay by Check by Chan. 60 pp. Workbook to aid in understanding checking accounts, making deposits, writing checks, reading statements, and balancing your check register.
4. Access Travel: Airports by the Airport Operators Council International. This guide lists design features, facilities, and services at 519 airport terminals in 62 countries. Includes information on parking, ramps, elevators, stairs, doors, boarding, rest rooms, and telephones. Also includes information on escort services, medical services, and brochures explaining the facilities.
5. Getting Around Cities and Towns by Roderinan. 65 pp. Helps in getting around a town or city through landmarks and geographical directions, locating places in strange neighborhoods or large buildings, reading maps, and using public transportation.
6. Using the Want Ads by Jew and Tandy. 65 pp. Helps one understand the abbreviated, often confusing language of the want ads. Information is included on using the ads to find a job, an apartment, a car, and on writing want ads.
7. Shopping Kit by Attainment Company, Inc. A kit which contains packs of food and nonfood items, an instruction booklet, large "pocket book" for carrying a large number of cards, two small card carriers, and a wipe-off pencil. The cards are of heavy stock with colored pictures of each item, plus the name of the product in large print. The back of the card contains space for marking size, brand, color, style, etc.
